Woodruff an Easy Mark for the Mountaineers-Petersburg Defeats Norfolk by a Score of 23 to 9_Other Games.

ROANOKE, VA., Apri 22.-Special .-The Hustlers were clearly out-played at every point in to-day's game. They could do but little with Lipp's curves, except in the sixth, when they hit him for four hits, which, with errors by Cockman and McFall, netted them six of their seven runs. The visitors were ragged in the runs. The visitors were ragged in the field, Wilson muffing an easy fly and failing to field the ball at a critical point. Kain also let a ball get away from him that shoud have allowed only one base Woodruff was an easy mark for the Mountaineers from the beginning, and he was hit freely throughout the game, the locals easily bunching their hits in the second, fourth, and sixth innings. Boos Grove distinguished himself in left field, gracefully accepting seven chances. Four of them were fine running catches, and ordinarily would have been good for two RICHMOND.

FARMERS WIN AGAIN. The Norfolk Club Defeated by a Score 28 to 9.

PETERSBURG, VA., April 22.—Special.—The last of three games between Norfolk and Petersburg was played this afternoon, and was witnessed by between six and seven hundred spectators. The visitors were not in the game at all until the fourth inning, when they began to seare. Seve home runs were made, four by the visitors and three by the local team. Petersburg out-batted the Norfolk players and out-fielded them in every way. The following is the score:

The Lynchburg boy who manipulated the horsehide with such marked success is undoubtedly a find of great worth, and the people of the Hill City are to be congratuated in securing him.

Lynchburg did fine work in the field, Leach, for the home club, was fairly steady, and had very good speed, but Lynchburg got twelve hits off him, and got them just when they needed them. Then, to make matters worse, the club, which usually plays a fairly steady game, went absolutely to pieces in the important positions, and never even gave Pitcher Leach the least shadow of support, and as for hitting, think of seven little, scattering hits, and then glance at the number of put outs "Jimmy" Little is credited with, as well as the number of assists opposite the names of McGann, Dolan, and Leahy, and you will then understand what a snag the Portsmouths struck in Boylan.

The home team earned one run in the ninth on hits by Leach and Rollins, and but for the weariness of the gentleman who filled the box for Lynchburg in the first inning, that one run is probably all they would have gotten.

There is no question but, with the luck and the form in which the visitors played to-day, that most any term in Virginis or elsewhere would have gote.

Washington, D. C., April 21, 1856.
Mr. Bartlett Roper, Petersburg, Va.:
My Dear Sir,—Yesterday morning I received the telegram signed by yourself as chairman, Mr. H. T. Phillips as secretary, by Mr. J. A. Barker, pastor of Westland Haptist church; by Mr. H. W. Battle, pastor of the First Baptlat church, and Mr. J. M. Pilcher, for the Second Baptist church, asking me to lay before the Secretary of State the protest expressed by the Baptists of Petersburg in mass-meeting against the treatment of the Baptist missionary in Cuba.

I went immediately to the State Department and laid the telegram before sir. Olney, and earnestly urged the importance of prompt and decisive action by his department, Mr. Olney assured me the matter was already under investigation, and that he would continue to give it careful attention, and in the end justice would be done in the premises.

Yours very tridly.

LONDON, April 22 .- The St. James Gazette, commenting on the dispatch to the Times from G. W. Smalley, the cor-respondent of that paper in the United States, reporting that the Venezuela dis-pute is still a question of great gravity and a cause for alarm, says: "The revival of the Venezuelan ques tion reminds us that even the wars in Africa are trivial, compared with the real danger which has existed in the West since December. The American demand that the United States shall decide our quarrels and settle our frontier is inadmissable, and no amount of talking around the matter wil make it anything else. President Cleveland, in his message last December, referred everything to a special commission, and then it was too late, attempted to negotiate. We are now told to be prepared for a report that is hostile to the claim of Great Britain. What will happen then? Either the Washington government must allow the report to remain a dead letter or carry out its threat to enforce a decision by resort to war.

whose hope to see Cuba free. Several months of observation of the progress of the revolution had convinced the committee's informant that the insurgents are in a fair way of winning that they practically have undisputed possession of a large portion of the island, and are winning nearly all the genuine battles that are fought. The Spanish forces were represented as being on the defensive practically in the cities and towns, and 30,000 remaining along the Trocha awaiting an attack. The few troops that are available for aggressive operations seem to be unable to cope with the constanting rowing insurgent forces.

Only about one more month remains before the rainy season is due, and little is expected of the Spanish troops after that time. The gentleman said that all talk of Cubans accepting such reforms as Spain was willing to grant was tille; that the Cubans were convinced that they had the best of the situation, and were sure to gain their independence. But, in the interest of humanity, they hoped the United States would recognize them as belligerents, as that would stop the killing of unarmed neople and the execution of prisoners of war. It would also enable the Cubans to purchase and fit of expeditions, and would conduce to bringing about an earlier ending of the war.

The House then, in committee of the whole, took up the bill reported by the Committee on Invalid Pensions, making general provisions relating to pensions.

Mr. Pickier (Rep.), of South Dakota, chairman of the committee reporting tre bill, explained its provisions and its necessity under the rulings of the present administration of the Pension Bureau. Its principal provisions are:

Its principal provisions are:

The section of the bill fixing the dates of the closing of the war and giving a pensionable status to a soldier holding an honorable discharge after ninety days' service, notwithstanding a previous dean honorable discharge after ninety days service, notwithstanding a previous desertion or dishonorable discharge as explained by Mr. Pickler, awakened some criticism by Republican members indicating that they would oppose them. In the course of a colloquy on the latter section, Mr. Steele, (Rep.), of Indiana, stated that he had had occasion to investigate the record of some bounty jumpers and found that one man had subsisted forty-one times the same in New York city.

Mr. Pickler spoke two and a half hours and when he had concluded, the committee rose. At 4:25 o'clock, the House adjourned until to-morrow.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN RAILROAD Attempts to Prove That the Southern

ATLANTA, GA., April 21.-The Georgia Railroad Commission to-day investigated the question of control of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad. The presumption of the commission was that it appeared that one controlled or man-aged the other by lease, ownership, or otherwise. But back of this announced otherwise. But tack of this announced intention was something of great importance, for the legality of the Southern's consolidation of various lines into one system was liable to attack. The Georgia Southern and Florida denied that it is controlled by the Southern. The lawyers and witnesses toutified that they did not know whether the Southern was

The commission based its case largely on the report made by President Spencer, of the Southern, to the stockholders of that company one year ago. In that report he spoke of the future of the Georgia, Southern, and Florida, as though it would be a part of the Southern's system.

The companies insisted that the report quoted from was made prior to the reorganization of the Georgia Southern. The commission did not succeed in extendishing the fact that the Southern controls the Georgia Southern, which has an independent force of officers, and its own board of Thectors. It was shown that in traffic matters the two roads are often competitors and antagonistic.

The commission took the case under

A similar case in regard to the Central of Georgia, and the Southern was pre-pared. The Southern owns a majority of the Central's stock, but they have no officers in common, and they do compete

Give Us Bayard.

There is no lack of material in the Democratic party from which to select a candidate for President. It is undertood that Whitney declines, that Carline declines, and that develand is not available because of popular opposition to a third term; but leaving these out of the we like the suggestion that this honor be conferred upon Hon. Thomas F. Bayard. No better evidence of the genuineness Congress. He denounces the system of protection advocated by McKinley-the Republican favorite-because of its sina against the American idea of liberty and equal rights, its tendency to corrupt po-tics, and to sap the popular conscien-by schemes of governmental favor. by schemes of governmental favor. He stood up for the South when she had no one else in official life to plead her cause. He has the confilence and exteem of Democrats in all sections of the country. He has the experience, the ability, and a clean record. His public life is unassailable and his private life is spotless.

In his devotion to the cause of free

In his devotion to the cause of free-dom and isumanity and the broad prin-ciples of pure Democracy he is almost without a peer in this country.

Bayard is a name to conjure with. It will not only command respect, but with do much to reconcile factions, to produce harmony and bring Democrats of every shade of opinion on minor issues to-gether under one banner. We heartly join those who are calling for Bayard. We like him for the enemics he has made.—New Castle Record.

said "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy." Shakespeare knew that the world consciously, or unconsciously, always judged people by the clothes they were. The same thing is done to-day, and the judgments are not usually very far from right. The man who will wear ill-fitting, old-fashioned, and poorly made clothes, when we are anxious to supply him with perfectly-made swellness, at a low price, deserves to be thought careless, ignorant, and unintelligent.

TURNED THE TABLES.

Woodberry Defeats McCabe by a Score of 6 to 4. second game of base-ball between the Woodberry Forest High School and McCabe's resulted in favor of the Woodberry boys by a score of 6 to 4. Hims was in the box for McCabe's, and had was in the box for McCabe's, and had he received anything like good support at critical moments, would have won his game. He allowed only seven hits and struck out ten men. Booton also did good work for Woodberry Forest, allowing McCabe's only five hits, and compelling four men to "fan out." The visitors put up a much better game than on Tuesday, and played their best at critical times. Beerye at third did especially good work for the Foresters, accepting seven difficult chances without cepting seven difficult chances without an error. Taylor at second did good work considering his sore eye. Holland, Laughton, and Potts made phenomenal plays, and received great applause.
